America calls us South Asian or brown, I call myself Indian. I was born and raised in New York and am a 2nd generation immigrant. I have been an actor since childhood, and storytelling, singing, and making a cultural impact through the arts are my passion. I worked as a model and production boy in NY during my college years, and even got cast as an extra on a Sidney Pollack movie. Knowing I'm meant for bigger things, I left for Mumbai, the land of 'Bollywood.' In the years in Mumbai, I have played versatile characters in many projects which have been acclaimed and/or hits and I've been hands-on in multiple aspects like development, distribution, and marketing. Along with my family, I moved back to New York in 2022 and am now actively working as an actor, voice-over artist, podcaster, mentoring acting aspirants, and emcee/public speaker.
